

Year 9: ASK Yourself!

Subject: Film Studies

Unit: Hollywood and World Cinema

	Launching 1-2	Developing 3-4	Progressing 5-6	Mastering 7-9
S kills
Essay Skills	I need to be able to write an essay analysis of key elements of film, context and specialist study areas to a basic level and focus on some connotations or intended meanings using some subject-specific terminology.	With help I can write an essay analysis of key elements of film, context and specialist study areas to a satisfactory level and focus on general connotations or intended meanings using subject-specific terminology.	I can confidently write an essay analysis of key elements of film, context and specialist study areas to a good, detailed level and focus on specific connotations or intended meanings using good subject-specific terminology.	I can expertly write an essay analysis of key elements of film, context and specialist study areas to an excellent, detailed level and consistently focus on multiple connotations or intended meanings using excellent subject-specific terminology.
K nowledge
Key Elements: Cinematography (camera and lighting) Mise-en-scène Editing Sound	I need to know the basic elements of cinematography, mise-en-scène, editing and sound and use them to analyse films and explore basic aspects of key sequences from chosen film using subject specific terminology in a basic way with some relevance.	I know some of the elements of cinematography, mise-en-scène, editing and sound and use them to analyse films and explore key sequences from chosen film using subject-specific terminology in a satisfactory and reasonably relevant way.	I know and can write confidently about cinematography, mise-en-scène, editing and sound, to analyse films and explore key sequences from chosen film effectively and relevantly using subject-specific terminology in a good and mainly relevant way.	I understand and can write expertly about cinematography, mise-en-scène, editing and sound to analyse and explore key sequences from chosen film highly effectively and highly relevantly using subject-specific terminology in an excellent and highly relevant way.
Context: Social	I need to know a basic understanding of	I know some satisfactory understanding of	I know and can write confidently about a good	I understand and can write expertly about excellent

Cultural Political Technological Institutional

social, cultural, political, technological and institutional context to analyse films. Use basic points to show an emerging point of view.

social, cultural, political, technological and institutional context to analyse films. Use satisfactory points to develop a reasonably coherent point of view.

understanding of social, cultural, political, technological and institutional context to analyse films. Use good points to develop a coherent point of view.

knowledge of social, cultural, political, technological and institutional context to analyse films. Use excellent points to develop a highly coherent point of view.